

Softing AG
Richard-Reitzner-Allee 6
D-85540 Haar
Germany

February 2012

To our customers in industry

Softing complies with the EU Directive WEEE, transformed into the ElektroG (EU Directive 2002/96/EC | Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment), ElektroG : Electrical and Electronic Equipment Act of 16.3.2005).

As a longstanding producer of top quality Hardware products for the industrial sector, Softing feels committed to the goals of environmental protection. That is why Softing will take back all products, which are covered by the act and which were supplied after the Act came into effect. These products will then be recycled or disposed of in an environmentally friendly way.

Softing is registered with the Foundation for the registration of old electrical appliances (EAR) under the number:

DE 3925 7114

In order to keep transport costs to a minimum, we are offering to take back all affected Softing hardware products free of charge, which are sent carriage paid to Softing.

If you would like any further information about this subject, please get in touch with your sales contact.

p p Dr Andreas Stein
Softing Environmental Management Representative